

91 pts

A subtly spicy layered and intense red pinot fruit nose that is nuanced by hints of earth that leads to delicious, fresh, vibrant and beautifully balanced flavors that possess a discreet sauvage component on the precise and vibrant finish where a very mild touch of warmth can also be found. This is lovely and has an attractive Burgundian element to the mouth feel. Lovely and worth a look for those who like classically styled pinot.

Selected and Imported by
American Estates Wines

91 pts

A subtly spicy layered and intense red pinot fruit nose that is nuanced by hints of earth that leads to delicious, fresh, vibrant and beautifully balanced flavors that possess a discreet sauvage component on the precise and vibrant finish where a very mild touch of warmth can also be found. This is lovely and has an attractive Burgundian element to the mouth feel. Lovely and worth a look for those who like classically styled pinot.

Selected and Imported by
American Estates Wines

91 pts

A subtly spicy layered and intense red pinot fruit nose that is nuanced by hints of earth that leads to delicious, fresh, vibrant and beautifully balanced flavors that possess a discreet sauvage component on the precise and vibrant finish where a very mild touch of warmth can also be found. This is lovely and has an attractive Burgundian element to the mouth feel. Lovely and worth a look for those who like classically styled pinot.

Selected and Imported by
American Estates Wines

90 pts

Here the nose is higher-toned than the Bien Nacido with red cherry and touches of raspberry and cranberry that introduces round, rich, delicious and attractively sappy flavors that possess fine depth and breadth as well as much better than average length. Moreover, there is virtually no warmth here and while this does not have quite the same sheer depth of the Bien Nacido, there is no warmth either. I give the Bien Nacido the nod because of the depth of material but this too is certainly worth a look.

Selected and Imported by
American Estates Wines

90 pts

Here the nose is higher-toned than the Bien Nacido with red cherry and touches of raspberry and cranberry that introduces round, rich, delicious and attractively sappy flavors that possess fine depth and breadth as well as much better than average length. Moreover, there is virtually no warmth here and while this does not have quite the same sheer depth of the Bien Nacido, there is no warmth either. I give the Bien Nacido the nod because of the depth of material but this too is certainly worth a look.

Selected and Imported by
American Estates Wines

90 pts

Here the nose is higher-toned than the Bien Nacido with red cherry and touches of raspberry and cranberry that introduces round, rich, delicious and attractively sappy flavors that possess fine depth and breadth as well as much better than average length. Moreover, there is virtually no warmth here and while this does not have quite the same sheer depth of the Bien Nacido, there is no warmth either. I give the Bien Nacido the nod because of the depth of material but this too is certainly worth a look.

Selected and Imported by
American Estates Wines