

DISCOVERY

The contemporary front label features the Southern Cross, a group of bright stars that are visible only from the Southern Hemisphere. These stars guided the first Maori and then European navigators to discover New Zealand.

This cuvee was selected from several high quality vineyards in Marlborough and a single vineyard in Hawkes Bay. Grapes were crushed and de-stemmed prior to pressing, and fermented at cool temperatures. The 2009 bottling features an upgraded, clear glass package.

This wine has lifted aromatics of lemon zest, passionfruit and a hint of herbs. Flavors follow through nicely with notes of fresh melon and tropical fruits. All this lingers on the palate with generous weight, and a long crisp finish.

This wine makes a natural combination with seafood, light meats, pasta, salads, and Asian cuisine.

Enjoy!
